PERSONAL INFORMATION.

I am a highly accomplished individual who graduated with honors in Travel and Tourism Management from Makerere University Business School, showcasing dedication to academic excellence.

Currently employed with J&E Study Abroad Company Limited, I hold a pivotal role in business development, specializing in recruiting students interested in studying abroad and fostering partnerships with key agencies in the education sector. Prior to this, I contributed significantly to the Uganda Tourism Association, serving as an administrator, administrative assistant, and projects officer, work as a local coach for CBI to support the transition towards inclusive and sustainable economies.

My commitment to leadership is evident in a variety of roles undertaken throughout academic years. Serving as a Class Representative, former President of the MUBS French Club, MUBSTHA association speaker, and National Patriotism Coordinator for MUBS demonstrates my ability to engage actively in diverse areas of interest.

Notably, I have contributed to research initiatives as a research assistant under the Solidarity Fund for Innovative Projects, Civil Societies, Francophone, Human Development (MUBS). These experiences have contributed to my personal and professional growth, developing into an articulate, confident, energetic, and ambitious individual with a mature approach to tasks and a commendable sense of time management.

In addition, I have held prestigious positions as the President of the Human Rights Club and the President of the Scouts Movement, showcasing a well-rounded skill set that extends beyond academics.

With an excellent academic background, a strong work ethic, and a diverse range of experiences, I am poised to make meaningful contributions to any academic or professional setting. I highly recommend myself for further employment opportunities, as I am confident that the skills, leadership qualities, and dedication demonstrated will be valuable assets to any sector.

CAREER PROFILE

My career journey began with administrative roles at the Uganda Tourism Association, where I served as an administrator and concurrently held the position of a Projects Officer. This early experience equipped me with a strong foundation in organizational operations and project management.

My current position at J&E Study Abroad Company Limited has allowed me to leverage my skills in business development and relationship building. I am actively involved in recruiting students who aspire to study abroad, facilitating their educational journeys. This role requires a strategic approach to foster partnerships within the education sector, demonstrating my ability to navigate the complexities of the industry.
