COMMIS 2 BAKER

Baking is not learned. It is an inherent skill, a talent. You must have passion for baking to be a successful baker. As such, when you write a Baker CV, it is ideal if you present your natural and inherent skills in baking. A sample CV of a Baker is given below so you will understand what I am trying to imply when I say natural or inherent skill. In the Career Aim section, you will notice that passion and zeal to do the job is expressed through his goals for the company. The Skills Profile as well as the Employment Section is also written this way.
